Product Description

USB 2.0 Cable USB AM TO Lightning For Charging Apple Mobile Phones

The USB-A to Lightning cable is designed to work with earlier versions of iPhone devices, providing the convenience of connecting to these devices. With the advancement of technology and the update of devices, the USB-C interface has gradually become the mainstream due to its higher data transmission speed and charging efficiency, but the USB-A to Lightning cable still plays a role in some scenarios, especially for users who purchased iPhone earlier.
